

Truthfulness
By
Ryan Wilkinson

Life is beautiful
Nature is beautiful
Love is beautiful
Imagination is beautiful
Everything is beautiful

The vast reality in which we live is obsessed with beauty in every form

Models
Make-Up
Art
Sunrise
Sunset
Life
Death

Blinded with a murky blur to the honest truth
That no matter how beautiful, everything will fade to nothing

Those models will pass away and end up 6 feet under
Make-Up will drown in the drain as it is cleaned from faces

Art is hidden away from greedy souls

Sunrise becomes sunset

Sunset becomes sunrise

Life ends with death

Death begins with life

Yusuke Asai understands that
His art has surpassed the need to be hidden
Because even though it is truly beautiful, it will still eventually crumble into nothing

Life ends
Nature burns
Love breaks
Imagination dwindles

The truth about everything
Is that everything eventually fades into nothing
