Never before had I heard of Mahatma Gandhi, and today's presentation about him inspired me to want to learn more. It's incredible to me how he could free an entire country without any weapons or armies but by being a peacemaker. His nonviolence amazes me because today most people use armies and weapons to try to change the world when Gandhi in peaceful and nonviolent ways changed a lot. Mark showed us a music video by MC Yogi about Gandhi and all his wonderful ways. Gandhi was truthful and loyal. He learned about many religions, and he never changed despite tremendous obstacles. His heart grew even more. Gandhi inspires me in every way possible.
